DIG DEEPER

Paul described his days as “evil,” and perhaps not much has changed. Yet we are to Carpe Diem! — “make the most of every opportunity.” In your own words, what does that mean?

Why are we prone to agonize over what God wants us to decide in particular situations but overlook how He calls us to act in all situations (in life)? How is God's will less specific and more practical than we often want?

How does Ephesiand 5:19,20 inform how you view the importance and purpose of our corporate worship gatherings? Your individual encounters with believers?
